MJC 12- GST

Indirect Tax vs Goods and Services Tax (GST)

Meaning

Indirect Tax:

Taxes levied on goods and services where the burden can be shifted to another person (consumer).
Examples: Excise Duty, VAT, Service Tax, CST.

GST:

A single, comprehensive indirect tax levied on the supply of goods and services, introduced to replace multiple indirect taxes.

Difference between Indirect Tax and GST

Basis	Indirect Tax (Earlier System)	GST
Number of taxes	Multiple taxes	Single tax system
Tax structure	Complex & fragmented	Simple & uniform
Cascading effect	Present (tax on tax)	Eliminated
Tax credit	Limited credit	Seamless Input Tax Credit
Nature	Origin-based	Destination-based
Coverage	Goods and services taxed separately	Goods and services taxed together
Compliance	Multiple authorities & returns	Single online portal
Market	Fragmented	Unified national market

Key Advantages of GST over Indirect Taxes

- Removes cascading effect of tax
- Ensures better tax compliance
- Promotes "One Nation, One Tax"
- Creates a common national market
- Simplifies tax administration
